

COVID-19 - Business Continuity @iX engineers

iX engineers is taking the Covid-19 pandemic in a serious light, following the Presidential address declaring a National Lockdown. We have subsequently adopted a work from home policy on all projects that are not site related to ensure continuity in the provision of services to our clients

We remain committed to delivering quality of work, in line with our client's expectations for the infrastructure delivery targets to be achieved. Various technological means are being used to conduct meetings and deliver reports and drawings to various stakeholders.

iX engineers remain fully operational and available to assist and support our clients and partners to address any challenges that may arise during this period. Please call on us for any support and solutions you may require. We believe that together we will overcome the prevailing challenges we face from an unprecedented pandemic.

Let's all stay safe and keep our economy active!

Kind regards,
Ms Lebo Leshabane
Chief Executive Officer
